

CARRIER

Carrier further bolsters its commitment to trade partners with a brand-new appointment

Carrier further bolsters its commitment to trade partners
with a brand-new appointment:

Amy Roullier
National Key Account Manager

October 2024: Carrier is delighted to announce the appointment of Amy Roullier as National Key Account Manager for trade; joining the luxury specialist from Kuoni where she was previously responsible for Retail Commercial Partnerships.

Amy joins the established Carrier Agency Sales team of Andy Tart, Georgia Bowhay and Sally Willmer and will manage key commercial relationships with Carrier's preferred agent partners across the UK.

Head of Trade Partnerships Lee Marshall says, 'Amy is such a great addition to our brilliant team; she is highly experienced, hard-working and benefits from a thorough understanding of the trade - we feel truly privileged to welcome her on board and we're incredibly excited for the future'.

Roullier commented "Joining Carrier is truly a dream come true. I'm thrilled at the opportunity to collaborate with their passionate team and support our esteemed travel partners in creating unforgettable experiences that enable travellers to explore the world's most exquisite destinations with unmatched elegance."

Amy formally joins the business in early December but will attend Carrier's inaugural partner Summit at Corinthia London on 25 November 2024.

Marshall said, "our commitment to nurturing meaningful relationships with likeminded specialist partners is stronger than ever and our investment in Amy's appointment into the Carrier family is true testament to that".

-ENDS-

For press enquiries please contact:

Jord Connor

E: Jordan.connor@carrier.co.uk